The Burning of Depots. Loss Nearly $500,000.

A Death from Cholera.

Observance of the Fourth.

Tammany Hall Celebration.

Response of the President.

NEW YORK, Thursday, July 5.

At the fire of the New Haven and Bridgeport steamboat depots this morning both depots were destroyed together with the steamers and two boats loaded with freight.

A colored man named Solomon Jackson was badly burned and another man is missing.

Mr. James Haywood, of the firm of Cornell & Haywood died in the city yesterday, after only two hours illness, of cholera.

Mr. Labaree, the alleged assassin of French cabinet minister, was arrested and examined for extradition. On Tuesday he was taken to the city hall, where he was held in custody.

The following are the material portions of some of the acknowledgments received by the Tammany Society yesterday. President John T. Sullivan says:

"I think you for the cordial invitation of the time to meet society of Tammany in celebration of the approaching anniversary of our national independence. The national torch and torchlight procession, which is the most fitting and appropriate mode of celebrating our national independence, is a noble and patriotic act, and one which we all should join in."

There can be no higher or nobler work than the celebration of the anniversary of our national independence. It is a noble and patriotic act, and one which we all should join in.

From St. Louis.

Adjustment of the Conservative Convention - Resolutions - Large Meeting of Soldiers in Illinois - 25,000 People present.

St. Louis, Thursday, July 5.

The Conservative Convention adjourned yesterday subject to the call of the President and a majority of the Vice Presidents.

Resolutions were adopted requesting Governor Fletcher to relieve the troops the late Legislature authorized him to call into service on the ground that it was unconstitutional to keep troops in time of peace without the consent of Congress, except it is actually invaded or in imminent danger thereof.

Also endorsing President Johnson's action in relation to the Freedmen's Bureau, Civil Rights bill and all other measures advocated by him for the restoration of the Southern States to the Union; condemning the efforts of the Vice President to amend the Constitution while one-third of the States were unrepresented; protesting against the attempt to have the amendments ratified by Legislatures elected over two years ago, and heartily approving the course in Congress of Representatives Hogan and Noell.

The convention elected four persons from each Congressional District and also from the State at large as delegates to the Philadelphia Convention; among the latter Congressmen Hogan and Noell.

The largest meeting of the Vice Presidents, if not in the State, assembled at Salem, Illinois, yesterday, to celebrate the Fourth of July. The meeting was gotten up by the Vice Presidents, and was held in the afternoon. It was a grand affair, and was attended by a large number of the Vice Presidents.

Mr. Spaulding gave notice that he would call up the question of privilege in the Cincinnati Convention, and that he would call up the question of privilege in the Cincinnati Convention.

The bill introduced some days since by Mr. Wilson, of Iowa, "relating to the National Railroad of July 1st, 1862, and July 1st, 1863," was taken up.

Mr. Wilson offered an amendment which was agreed to, providing that the act should be so amended as to give the National Railroad Company of Illinois, the right to build a railroad from St. Louis to the mouth of the Mississippi River, and to the mouth of the Mississippi River.
